Country and Years of origin	Manga - Japan (12-13th century) Manhwa - Korea (1920's)	https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Manga#:~:text=Manga%20originated%20from%20emakimono%20(scrolls,would%20later%20be%20called%20manga. https://lareviewofbooks.org/article/riding-the-wave-the-steady-rise-of-korean-manhwa/
Cultural Impact	Originating from Chōjū-jinbutsu-giga, American cultures played a huge role in the influence of manga as an attempt to uphold Japanese traditions and cultures. Manhwa originally were used for political and social reasons as they became popular during the World War period. Manhwa itself was highly influenced by Japanese culture which was later made humorous to serve children's interests.	https://ccci.am/manga-and-comics-in-the-us-cultural-influence/ https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Manhwa#:~:text=Manga%20influenced%20manhwa%20from%20the,began%20to%20export%20comics%20abroad.
Minor Differences	Apart from differing influences and years of origin, manga and manhwa are for the most part, counterparts of each other. However, there are little differences in the way they are drawn and represented: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Mangas are black and white, Manhwas are colorful. - Mangas are mostly produced by companies, while manhwas are independently produced in both paper and online form (webtoons) - The way they are read is different where manga is read right-to-left and top-to-bottom, and manhwa is read left-to-right and top-to-bottom.
